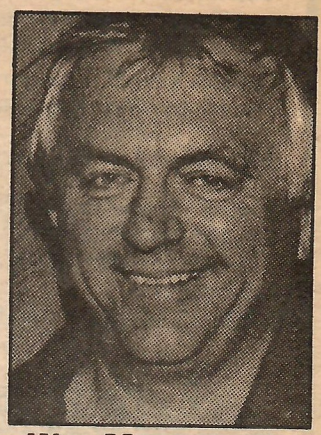
Two celebrities named for dinner

The Fultonvale Fastball club has announced that two favorites of past celebrity dinners will headline this year's guest list at the 4th Annual Sports Celebrity Dinner on Feb. 18.

Waddell Smith of the Edmonton Eskimos, and Edmonton's legendary morning man Wes Montgomery of CISN radio will both be in attendance.

Montgomery, who first attended the dinner two years ago will emcee this year's event. Smith, wide receiver for Eskimos, was the star of last year's dinner.

Waddell Smith



Wes Montgomery

This is the fourth year the Fultonvale Fastball Club has hosted the celebrity dinner. This year they will be assisted by the Strathcona Junior Fastball team.

Proceeds from the event will be used to fund the two teams through the 1984 season.

The dinner will be held at the Sherwood Sportsmen at 130 Sioux Road. Tickets are $30 each and are available from any member of the two fastball clubs.

In previous year's the dinner has attracted such celebrities as Wayne Gretzky of the Oilers and National Baseball League Batting champion Al Oliver of the Montreal Expos.

Capozzi named as headline speaker

The headline speaker at the Fultonvale Fastball Club's 4th Annual Sports Celebrity dinner will be Herb Capozzi.

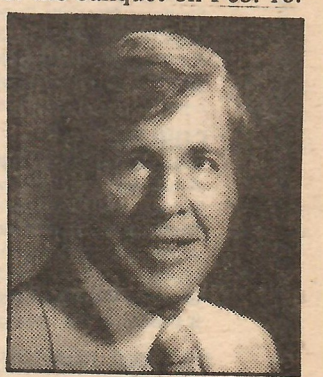
"Mr. Capozzi is in great demand on the speaking circuit," said dinner organizer Ron Liepert. "We are indeed fortunate to have secured his services as a head table guest."

Capozzi played five years in the Canadian Football League with both the Calgary Stampeders and the Montreal Alouettes. Following his retirement he assumed the General Manager's duties for the B.C. Lions in 1957.

He held the post for 10 years, including 1964, the only year the Lions won the Grey Cup.

Capozzi left the Lions and headed up a group of Vancouver business people who formed the Whitecaps of the North American Soccer League. The Whitecaps won their first championship in 1979. Capozzi still serves as the chairman of the board for the team.

He will joins Edmonton Oiler Glenn Anderson, Edmonton Eskimo Waddell Smith and Master of Ceremonies Wes Montgomery at the head table of the banquet on Feb. 18.



Herb Capozzi

Tickets are available from club members at a cost of $30 each.

For further information regarding the dinner please call either Ron Liepert at 427-2261 during the day or 922-4548 in the evening; or Henry Van Drunen at 467-6981.

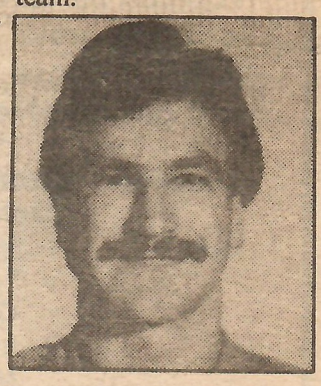
Oiler to appear at sports dinner

Glenn Anderson, of the Edmonton Oilers, is the latest celebrity to be added to the guest list of the Fultonvale Fastball Club's sports celebrity dinner.

Anderson, 23, was a fourth round draft choice of the Oilers in the 1979 amateur draft. He spent the 1979/80 season as a member of the Canadian Olympic team.

The native of Vancouver has had two consecutive 100 point seasons in the NHL, totaling 104 points last year and 105 points the year before. In 1982/83, Anderson led the Oilers with 10 game winning goals.

He will be joining Edmonton Eskimo Waddell Smith and CISN radio broadcaster Wes Montgomery in the 4th annual sports celebrity dinner which this year is being hosted by both the Fultonvale Fastball Club and the Strathcona Junior Fastball team.



Glen Anderson

Proceeds from the event will be used to fund the two teams over the coming season.

The dinner will be held at the Sherwood Sportsman on Sioux Road, Feb.18. Tickets for the dinner are $30 each and are available from any member of the Fultonvale or Strathcona clubs.